TAXONOMY

- Organizing, classifying and naming living things
- Formal system originated by Carl von Linné (1701-1778)
- Identifying and classifying organisms according to specific criteria
- Each organism placed into a classification system

Plot(Mythos)

- The plot provides a framework for the story, organizing events in a way that creates a clear beginning, middle, and end.
- It guides the audience through the narrative, helping them understand the progression of events and how they relate to each other.
- Through the plot, playwrights can develop characters, build tension, and explore complex themes.
