Food Festival Program:-

Food Marketing is defined as a series of marketing events that take place between a food company and a consumer.

Objective of The practice:

Food marketing plays a crucial role in the industry as it has the power to shape consumer preferences and influence purchasing decisions. Through various strategies and techniques, food marketers aim to attract, engage, and ultimately convince consumers to choose their products over competitors. From enticing packaging designs to creative advertisements, food marketing creates a sense of desire and perceived value around certain products. Therefore in the context of developing countries, such as India, there is a critical need for quality skill development and training Self-employment.

So, the noble objectives of the practice are:-

- To introduce to the student about the scope of food Industry.
- To develop marketing skill among the student
- Through the college level platforms students can learn the significance food marketing and Food Industry

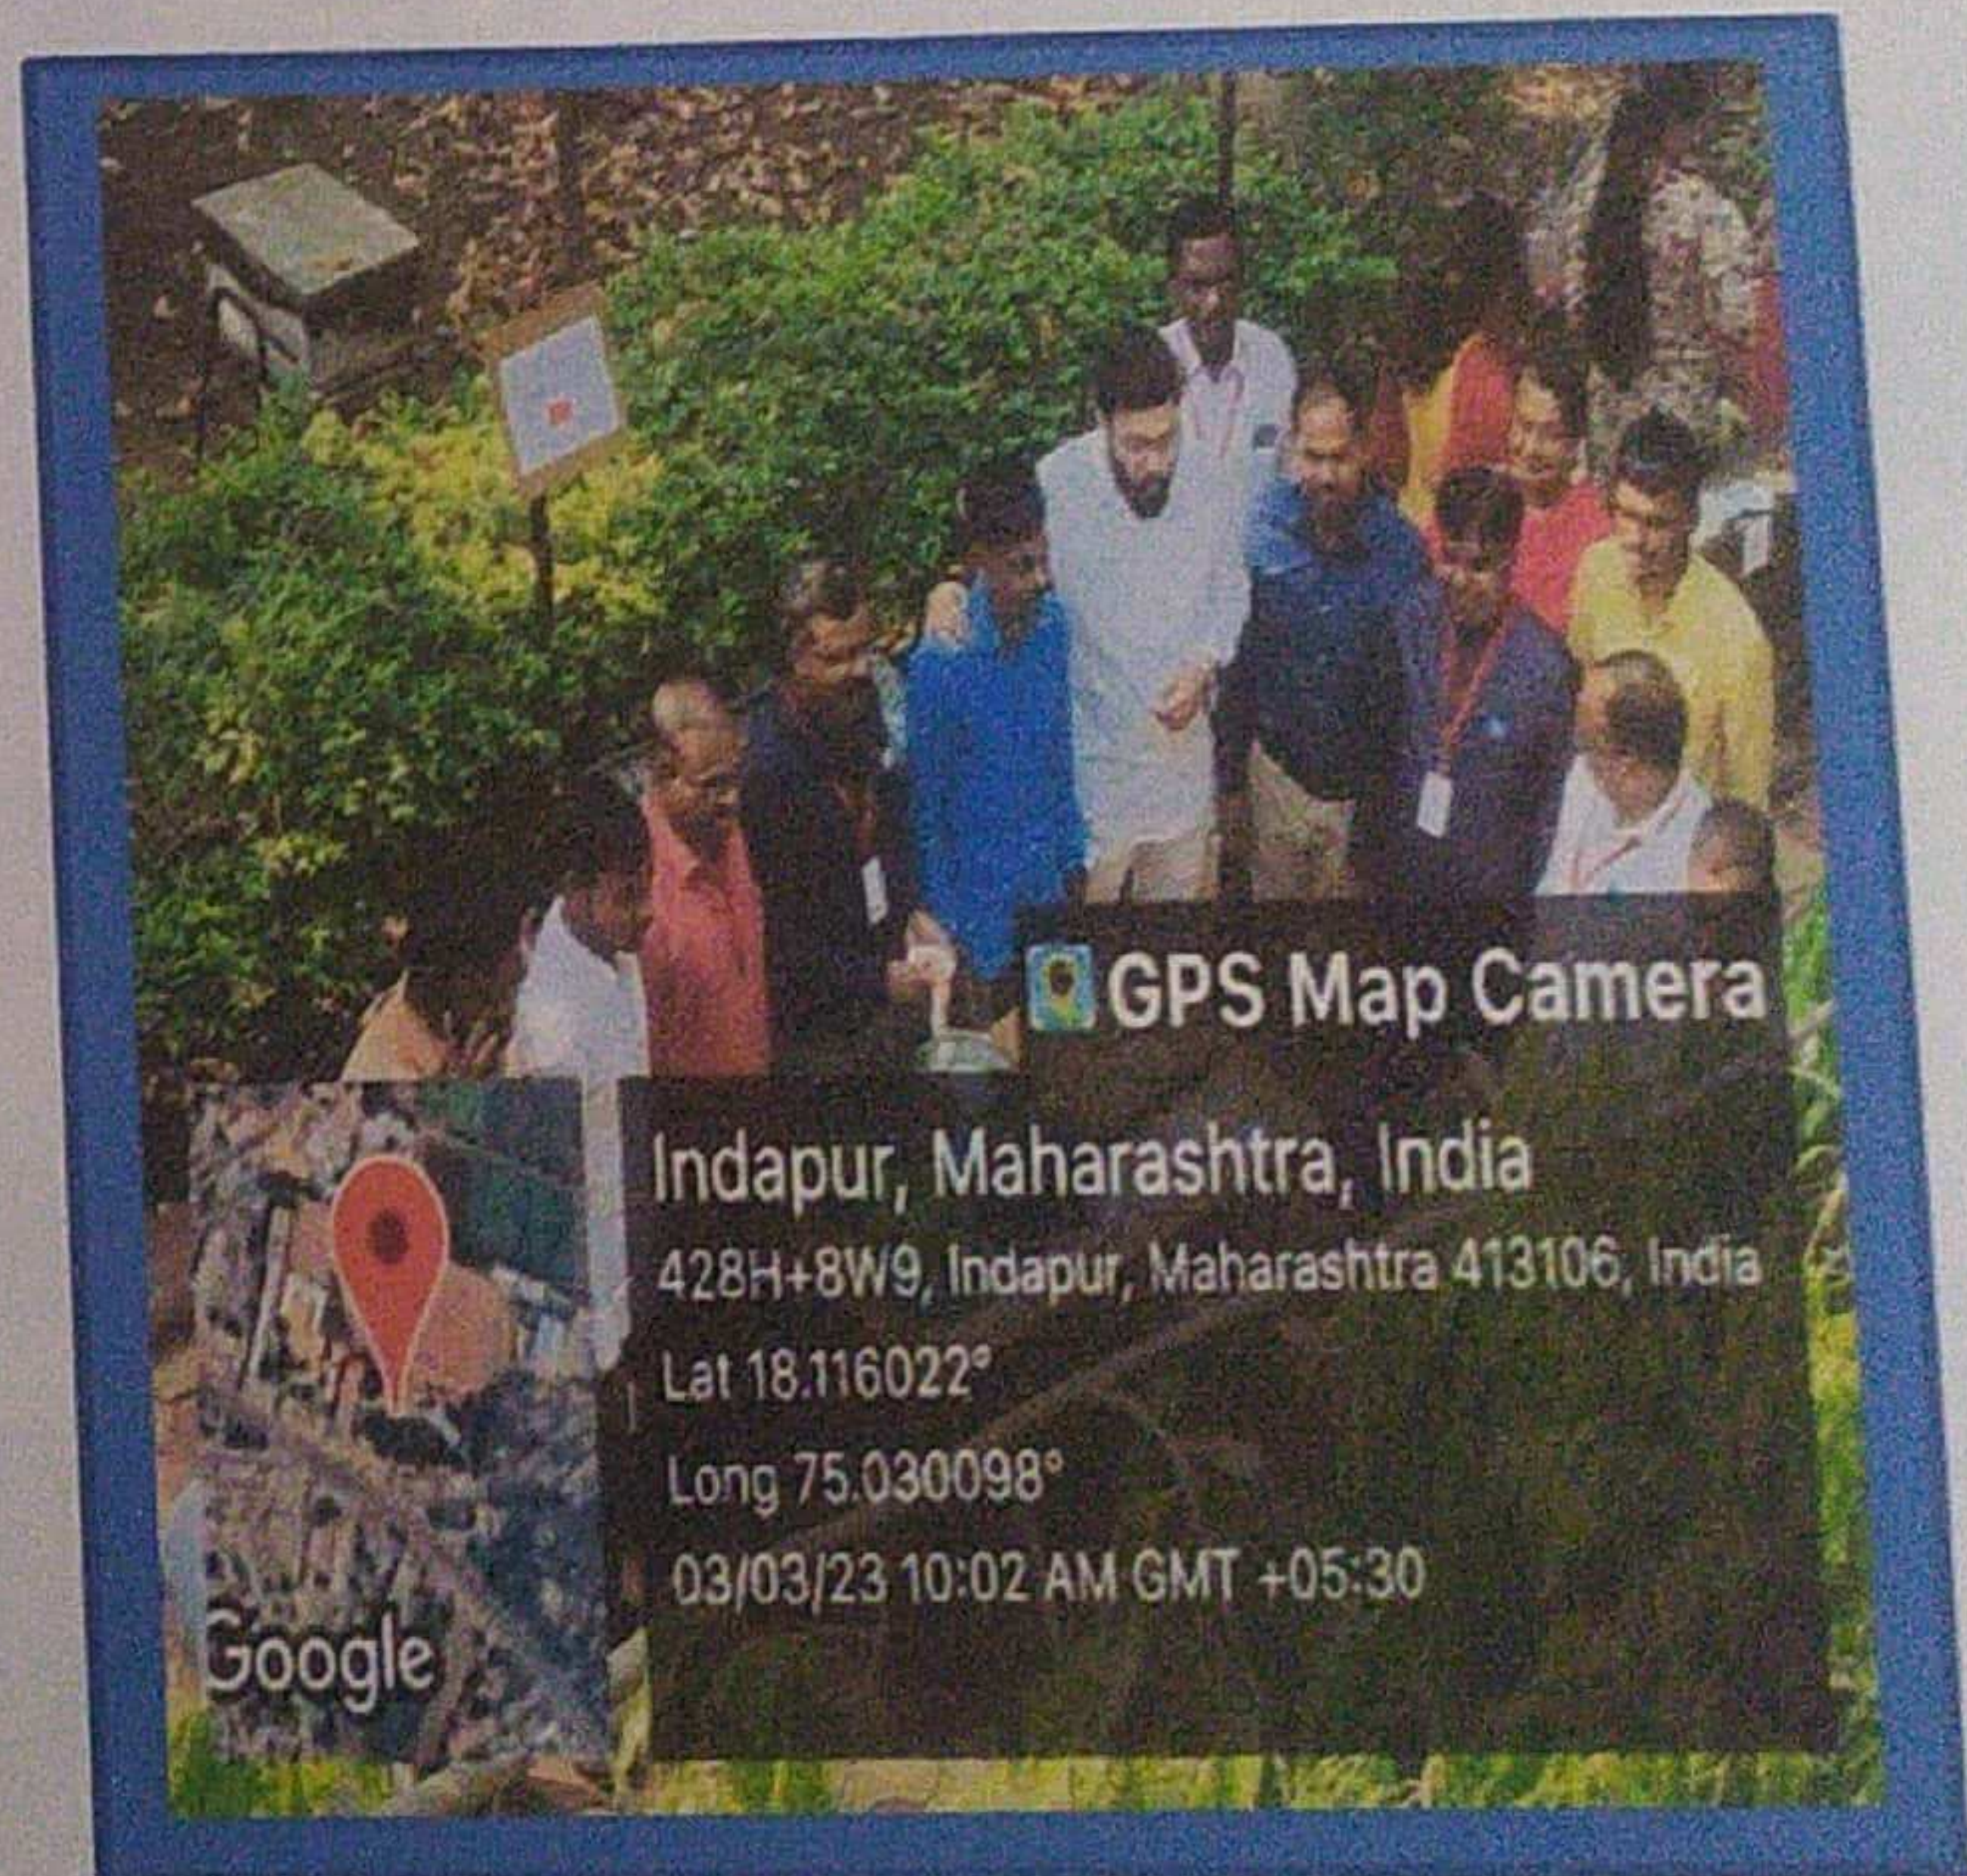

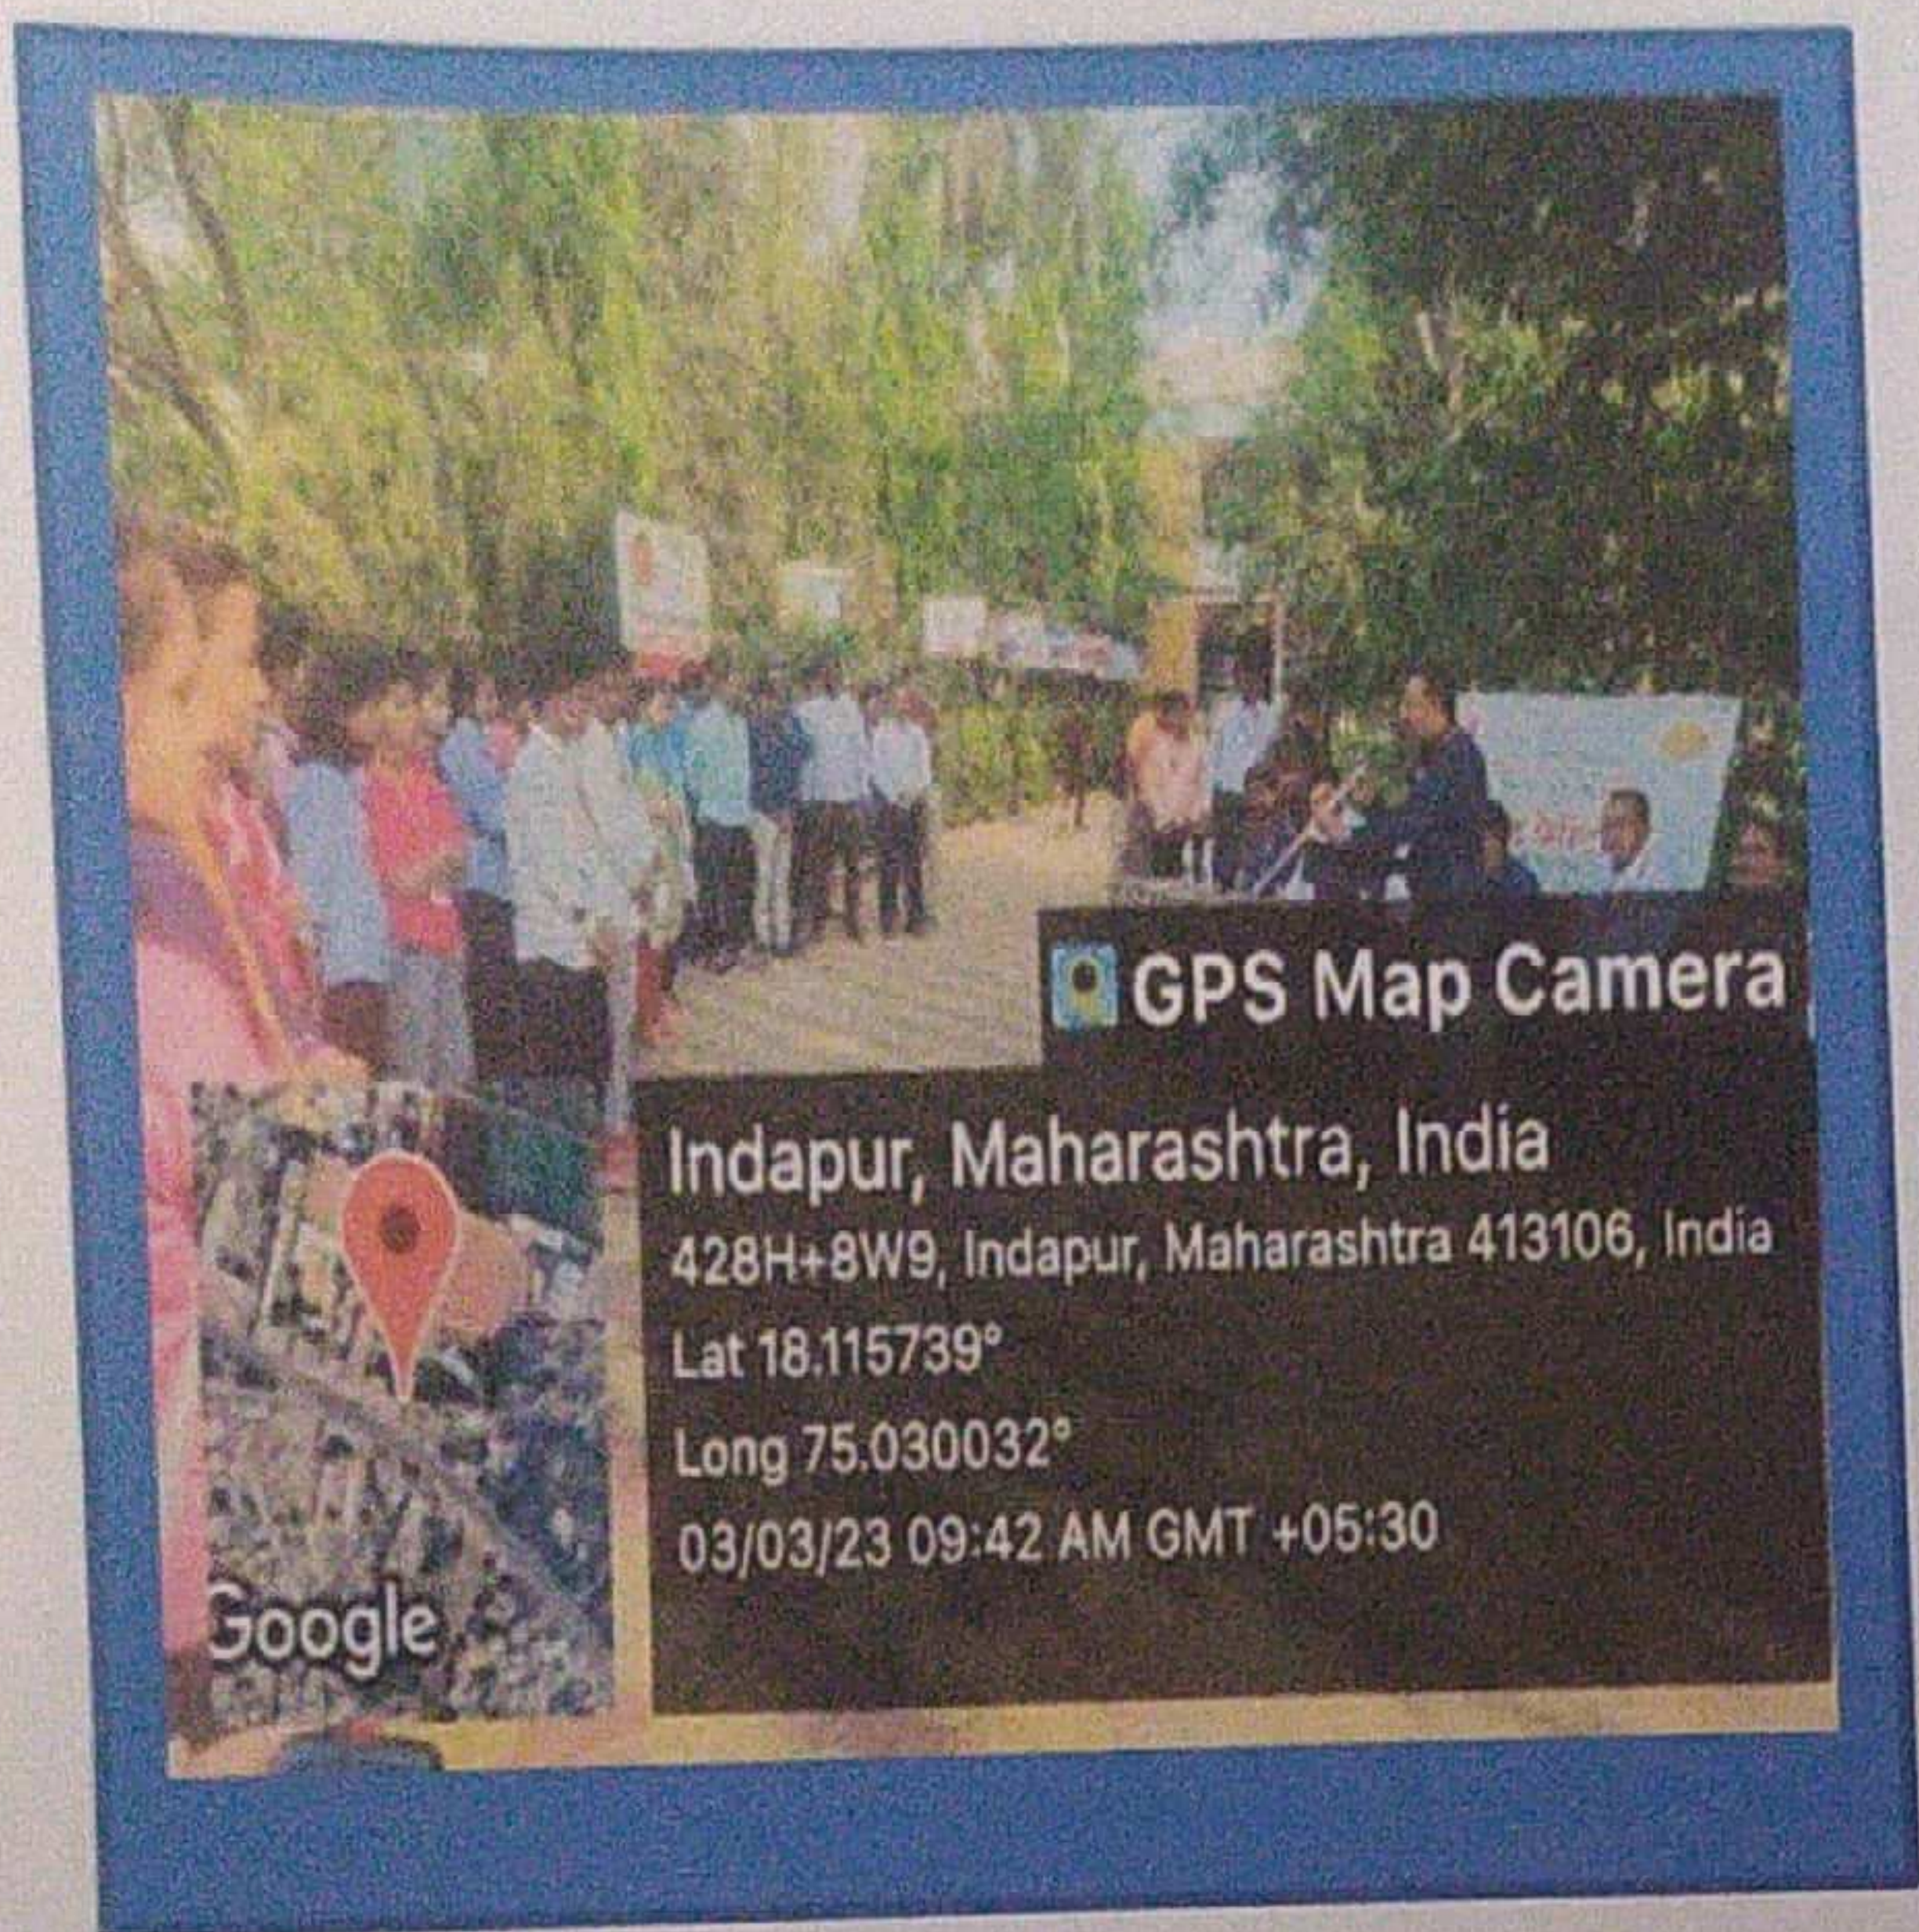

The expected outcome is that students should be able to know what the skill needed for food industry.

The Context:-

The unemployment rate is a key indicator of the health of an economy, as it reflects the availability of jobs and the overall level of economic activity. Youth unemployment is a critical

Report on Drill and Shooting Competition CATC-702

Cdt. Gaikwad embarked on a transformative journey by attending the Combined Annual Training Camp (CATC-702) held at Pravaranagar, Maharashtra, from August 7th to 16th, 2019. This ten-day intensive program aimed to equip cadets with essential practical and leadership skills, while fostering a strong sense of discipline and teamwork.

The camp served as a microcosm of military life, demanding unwavering adherence to a regimental schedule. Cadets were subjected to rigorous physical training, including demanding obstacle courses, endurance runs, and rigorous physical drills. These activities not only enhanced their physical fitness but also instilled mental fortitude and the ability to push their limits.

Leadership development was a cornerstone of the training. Cadets were entrusted with command tasks, requiring them to make critical decisions, plan and execute operations, and effectively lead small groups. These experiences honed their decision-making abilities, problem-solving skills, and the capacity to inspire and motivate others.

Teamwork was emphasized throughout the camp. Cadets engaged in a variety of collaborative challenges, including problem-solving exercises and fieldcraft simulations. These activities underscored the importance of coordination, communication, and mutual support within a team. By working together towards common goals, cadets learned to appreciate the value of individual contributions and the power of collective effort.

A disciplined lifestyle was ingrained throughout the camp. From early morning wake-up calls to meticulously maintained mess routines, cadets experienced the importance of adhering to a structured schedule. This fostered self-discipline, time management, and a sense of personal responsibility. The emphasis on personal hygiene and maintaining a clean and organized environment instilled a sense of order and respect for oneself and others.

Beyond physical and mental challenges, the camp provided cadets with valuable military knowledge. They were introduced to basic military skills, including map reading, navigation, and first aid. These skills are not only crucial for military personnel but also valuable life skills that can be applied in various situations.

The impact of CATC-702 on Cdt. Gaikwad was profound. He returned from the camp with enhanced physical fitness, improved leadership skills, and a deeper understanding of teamwork and discipline. The experience instilled in him a sense of confidence, self-reliance, and the ability to overcome challenges. The lessons learned at CATC-702 will undoubtedly serve him well in his future endeavors, both within and beyond the military..

Report on Drill and Shooting Competition CATC-706

The National Cadet Corps (NCC) Annual Training Camp (ATC) 706, a transformative experience for aspiring leaders, unfolded from July 10th to 19th, 2019, in Pune. Eleven cadets from our college, eager to embrace the challenges, embarked on this enriching journey. The ATC, a crucible of character-building, provided an unparalleled platform for personal and professional growth. Immersed in a rigorous yet supportive environment, cadets were pushed beyond their perceived limits, honing essential life skills. Teamwork, once a mere concept, became a tangible reality as cadets collaborated seamlessly, their individual strengths complementing each other to achieve common goals.

Decision-making, often a daunting prospect, was transformed into a calculated process. Faced with a myriad of choices, cadets learned to analyze situations, weigh the pros and cons, and arrive at informed, decisive actions. Communication, the cornerstone of effective leadership, was refined through daily interactions, presentations, and group discussions. Cadets learned to articulate their thoughts with clarity and conviction, fostering meaningful connections and understanding.

Motivation, the driving force behind every endeavor, was ignited within each cadet. The camp instilled a sense of purpose, encouraging cadets to strive for excellence, not just for individual glory, but for the collective success of their team. This spirit of camaraderie fostered a strong sense of belonging, where individual aspirations were intertwined with the collective good.

Beyond the intellectual and interpersonal gains, the ATC served as a crucible for physical and mental fortitude. The demanding schedule, coupled with rigorous physical training, pushed cadets to their physical limits, enhancing their stamina, endurance, and overall fitness. The challenges faced, both physical and mental, instilled resilience, teaching cadets to overcome obstacles and persevere through adversity.

The camp was a tapestry of diverse activities, each carefully designed to foster teamwork and coordination. From obstacle courses that tested physical agility and mental alertness to map reading exercises that honed navigational skills, every activity emphasized the importance of collective effort and synchronized action. The spirit of competition, while ever-present, was tempered with a strong emphasis on sportsmanship and mutual respect.

In retrospect, the NCC ATC 706 was more than just a training camp; it was a transformative experience that left an indelible mark on the participating cadets. It instilled in them the values of discipline, dedication, and leadership, equipping them with the tools to navigate the challenges of life with confidence and resilience. The memories forged during those ten days, the bonds formed with fellow cadets, and the invaluable lessons learned will continue to inspire and guide them in their personal and professional journeys.
