Report of Group Discussion

Date: 08/02/2024

- Participants : FYBA students - 38 in total, divided into 5 groups
  - Topics :
    - a. Human as a Resource
    - b. Scope of Human Geography
    - c. Human Settlement
    - d. Population Growth
    - e. Over Population
  - Objectives :
    1. Assess program and course attainment of the first topic - Introduction to Human Geography of the syllabus.
    2. Gather and discuss additional information on the specified topics.

- Summary :

The Department of Geography organized a Group Discussion on 2nd February 2024, focusing on key topics related to Introduction to Human Geography (First topic of curriculum). A total of 38 FYBA students actively participated, forming five groups.

The primary objective of the discussion was to assess the program and course attainment, particularly emphasizing the first topic – Introduction to Human Geography of the syllabus. This allowed the department to gauge the students' understanding and engagement with the subject matter.

Furthermore, the group discussion served as a platform for students to share and discuss additional insights on specific topics, namely the Human as a Resource, Scope of Human Geography, Human Settlement, Population Growth, Over Population. This approach aimed to foster a deeper understanding of the subject matter and encourage collaborative learning among peers. Students asked questions to each group after their performance and discussed each other.

The event was successful in promoting active participation and knowledge exchange among the FYBA students. The Department of Geography looks forward to organizing more such interactive sessions to enhance the overall learning experience for students.

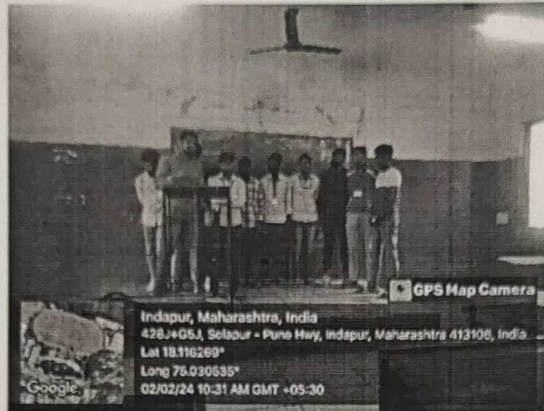

Students submitted their feedback on group discussion. Most of the students gave positive feedback. Some of the students suggested that duration for this activity should be more.

• Conclusion :

The Group Discussion on 2nd February 2024 was a valuable initiative to assess and enrich the understanding of key topics within the 'Introduction to Human Geography' domain. The active participation of students and the exchange of additional information contributed to a vibrant learning atmosphere. The Department of Geography remains committed to facilitating such engaging sessions for the continuous improvement of students' academic experience.
