Report on Self Introduction Program

Date: 23/07/2023

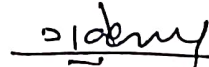

Department of Geography regularly organizes various activities for the students to develop personality and enhance their skills. Continuous assessment is one of the aspects of the Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) to evaluate students overall progress. With reference to this, it is decided to organize the 'Self Introduction Program'. The main objective of this program is to improve the self-introduction skill and stage daring skill of students. Another objective is to integrate with class environment.

To achieve objectives, Self-introduction Program organized in the regular class on 22/07/2023. Total 20 students were actively participated in this activity. At the beginning of this activity, teacher told the nature of activity. Teachers also explained what to do's and don'ts while introducing yourself. After that students introduced themselves. Teacher summed up after completion of this activity. Students were actively participated and tried to introduce themselves. Some of the students were introduced well. But it is found that there is lack of stage daring skill in some students. Another observation is that the integration of the students with class environment is increased in further classes. It is the success of this activity.

Students were submitted their feedbacks orally in class. Students were happy to share their views regarding this activity. As per feedback, students were happy and interested to organize again this type of activities in the class. As per students' feedback we found that there are some students who is talked in the class after two to three years. Confidence level of students also increased through this activity.
